Keynote Chat: Reinventing Oncology through AI to Improve Outcomes, Accelerate Learning, and Streamline Drug Development

2:40pm - 3:15pm

Clinical oncology is in crisis. Patients and physicians are overwhelmed by a tsunami of research findings, conflicting expert opinions, and a shortage of actionable data. Meanwhile trials cost too much, take too long, and are too narrowly focused. Individual outcomes vary widely and too many trials compete for too few patients. Learn how AI can help bio-pharma slash the time and cost of developing drugs, physicians make better decisions, and patients achieve superior outcomes.

Participants

Keynote Speaker: Marty Tenenbaum, Ph.D. - Founder and Chairman, Cancer Commons; xCures
